

Update installations package

Since version 10.0.04 you can download update installer from our homepage. These installer are much more smaller than the installation CD and can be installed without a restart of the computer.

Before you can install an update on your computer you have to have installed the installation CD for version 10 on your computer one time in the past. After this you can install the updates for version 10.

If you install the update version the direct interfaces Parasolid, Granite, the 5 axis modules, the machine simulation, the G-post post processor and the help files will not be included. To update any of these you need to install the installation cd.